The screenshot shows a report titled "Employee Phone Listing" with a logo on the left. Below the title is a table with two identical sections. Each section has three columns: "Employee", "Phone", and "Mobile". The data in the table is heavily blurred to protect privacy. The "Employee" column contains names, the "Phone" column contains office phone numbers, and the "Mobile" column contains mobile phone numbers. The table is presented in a clean, professional layout with clear column headers.
